WELCOME

I Your Year, Lucas

Dear Lucas, this report follows the sky over the twelve months from December 2026 – November 2027, and reads it against the chart of the moment you were born. As the slow planets travel, they form angles to the places in your chart, and each of those contacts lights up a theme for a while: a season of growth, of effort, of change or of letting go. The loudest theme is Pluto square your Ascendant: “meeting your match”, with Uranus trine your Moon close behind.

You will find 15 transits in these pages, each with the dates it is active and the days it is exact. Read them as seasons and invitations rather than fixed events: the sky sets the weather, and you decide what to do in it. Start with the overview, then return to each month as it arrives.

How to read this report

1. The year at a glance shows every major transit as a band across the twelve months. Diamonds mark the days a transit is exact, when its theme tends to peak.
2. Turning points lists those dates in order, together with eclipses and Mercury's retrograde turns, so you can mark your calendar.
3. The headline themes are the 5 strongest, longest transits of your year, read in full.
4. Month by month follows each transit as it builds, peaks, returns and fades. Each one is read in full the first time it appears; after that you get the short version and where it stands.

Dates are calculated for Lucas's birth chart and given in Universal Time; locally a date can differ by a day. A transit is counted while it is within 1° of exact.

THE PLANETS OF THE YEAR

II Five Slow Planets

A transit is a planet in today's sky making an angle to a planet or point in your birth chart. This report follows the five slow planets, because they stay on a point long enough to shape a season of your life rather than a single day.

♃ Jupiter: Room to Grow

Jupiter takes about twelve years to circle the zodiac, so its contacts to your chart last from a few weeks to several months. It tends to widen whatever it touches: more options, more confidence, more appetite. The gift is opportunity and generosity; the catch is overdoing it.

♄ Saturn: The Long Game

Saturn takes about twenty-nine years to circle the zodiac, and its contacts often last most of a year. It asks what is real, what is yours to carry and what deserves your effort. It can feel slow or heavy, yet what you build under Saturn tends to last.

♅ Uranus: The Unexpected Door

Uranus needs about eighty-four years for one round, so its contacts stretch over a year or more. It stirs the part of your chart it touches: restlessness, fresh ideas, a wish for more freedom. It rewards experiment and honesty about what no longer fits.

♆ Neptune: The Softening Tide

Neptune moves so slowly that one contact can colour two years. It dissolves edges: imagination, compassion and longing rise, and certainty can blur. It is a time for art, rest and faith, and for checking the facts before signing anything important.

♇ Pluto: Down to the Roots

Pluto is the slowest of all, and its contacts can unfold over two or three years. It works below the surface, asking you to let what is finished end so that something truer can grow. It brings intensity, focus and, in time, a quiet kind of power.

Retrograde passes

Seen from Earth, every slow planet appears to back up for a few months each year. That is why one transit can be exact once, or three times: an introduction, a review and a resolution.

Three kinds of contact

Conjunction

The transiting planet sits right on your natal point. The two merge, so the theme is loud and personal: a new chapter rather than a passing mood.

Trine and sextile

Flowing angles. Things tend to come more easily, but they rarely arrive on their own: these are open doors you still need to walk through.

Square and opposition

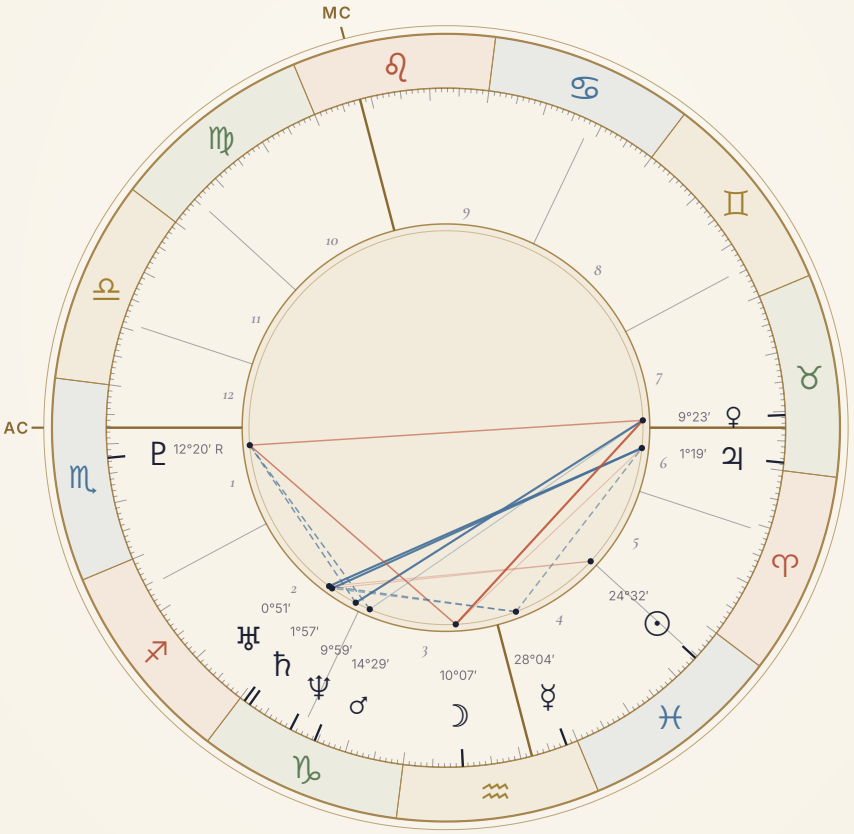

Tense angles. They bring friction, pressure or a sense of being pulled two ways, which is often exactly the push that gets something moving.

THE BIG PICTURE

VI The Headline Themes of Your Year

♇ Pluto square your Ascendant ♇ □ AC

Meeting Your Match ● CHALLENGING

In orb 4 Mar 2027 – 19 Nov 2029 Exact 11 Feb 2028, 14 Aug 2028, 19 Dec 2028

A square or opposition from Pluto to your Ascendant often shows up through other people. You might encounter strong personalities, partners who mirror your own intensity, or situations where you feel watched, judged or pushed to defend your space. The way you usually handle the world may stop working quite so smoothly. Uncomfortable as this can be, it tends to reveal where you have been shrinking, and where you have been holding on to an image too tightly.

When someone presses on you, ask what they are showing you about your own boundaries. Practise stating what you need clearly and calmly, without apology or aggression. Look after your energy carefully during this stretch. The aim is not to win every encounter but to come out of each one more fully yourself.

♅ Uranus trine your Moon ♅ △ ☽

Fresh Air at Home ● FLOWING

In orb 1 Aug 2027 – 3 Apr 2029 Exact 1 Jun 2028

A supportive angle from Uranus to your Moon tends to bring a welcome lightness to your private life. You might feel freer to express what you need, try new routines, or invite different kinds of people into your circle. Small changes at home, rearranging furniture, a new ritual, an unexpected guest, can lift your mood more than you expect. Old emotional patterns may loosen almost by themselves, making it easier to respond to life with curiosity rather than worry.

Use this easy current to update one habit that keeps you stuck emotionally. Perhaps it is how you unwind, how you ask for support, or how you spend your mornings. Choose something you would genuinely enjoy changing, and let it be playful rather than another task.

♆ Neptune square your Saturn ♆ □ ♄

When the Ground Shifts ● CHALLENGING

In orb 26 Apr 2025 – 21 Feb 2027 Exact 5 Jun 2025, 3 Aug 2025, 25 Mar 2026, 8 Nov 2026, 16 Jan 2027

During this stretch, the frameworks you rely on may feel less firm. Plans can blur, authority figures may seem less dependable, and you might doubt whether your hard work is leading anywhere. Responsibilities could feel heavier on days when energy is low, and the urge to escape duty altogether may surface. Alternatively, you might cling more tightly to control, trying to stop the tide by building higher walls. Both responses are understandable; what this transit asks is a gentler flexibility.

Focus on what truly holds your life together, and let the rest be reviewed. Keep core routines steady and paperwork up to date, then allow yourself to question rules you have inherited. Talking things through with someone patient can help. Which of your obligations would you choose again, and which could you begin, kindly, to set down?

♄ Saturn trine your Midheaven

♄ △ MC

Earned Momentum ● FLOWING

In orb 3 May 2027 – 8 Feb 2028 Exact 12 May 2027, 22 Nov 2027, 24 Jan 2028

Saturn's supportive angle to your Midheaven tends to favour steady professional progress. You might notice that consistent effort is being noticed, or that a clearer sense of long-term direction is taking shape. Superiors and colleagues may respond well to your reliability. Advancement here is usually gradual, built on competence rather than luck, which makes it all the more durable.

It is a good stretch to plan your career deliberately: update your skills, document your achievements, or take on a project that demonstrates what you can do. Mentorship, given or received, can be particularly rewarding. If you have been unsure of your direction, quiet reflection may bring clarity in this period. Which professional goal would benefit most from a realistic, step-by-step plan?

♃ Jupiter conjunction your Midheaven

♃ ☌ MC

A Wider Stage ● CONJUNCTION

In orb 8 Oct 2026 – 18 Jun 2027 Exact 14 Oct 2026, 11 Feb 2027, 11 Jun 2027

Jupiter at the top of your chart tends to shine a light on your work and public role. You might notice more visibility, more responsibility, or a clearer sense of the direction your vocation is taking. Opportunities to lead, represent or teach may come forward, and people in positions of influence can be more receptive than usual. The shadow is taking on a bigger role than you truly want, simply because it is offered.

This is a good time to think about reputation as something you shape deliberately. Which kind of recognition would actually feel meaningful? Pursue roles and projects that match your values, and be generous with credit to others. Ask yourself: if your work became more visible, what would you want it to say about you?

A quieter stretch

No major new transits begin this month, and that is a gift in itself. Quiet months are where the work of the busier ones settles in. Use the space to rest, to tidy up what is half-finished, and to notice what you actually want before the next wave arrives.

Calm, Practical Care ● FLOWING

Saturn's easy angle to your Moon tends to settle the emotional weather. Moods may feel more even, and you might handle family responsibilities or domestic decisions with a calm that surprises you. Older relatives or trusted mentors could offer grounded support. Rather than chasing excitement, you may find genuine comfort in order: a tidy kitchen, a paid bill, a promise kept.

In this period, it helps to put your private life on firmer footing. You might organise your living space, set up routines that support your sleep and energy, or have a practical talk with family about shared plans. Because emotions are steadier, decisions made during this stretch tend to be well considered. Which small habit, kept faithfully, would make your home feel more like a refuge?

Annular solar eclipse

6 Feb 2027 · 17°38' Aquarius

A solar eclipse is a powerful new moon. Astrologers read it as a reset in the area of life where it falls: something begins, or a direction that has been forming becomes clear. Plant intentions lightly and watch what grows over the following months.

FEBRUARY · CONTINUED

Mercury retrograde

9 Feb – 3 Mar 2027 · 5°59' Pisces back to 20°55' Aquarius

Three or four times a year Mercury appears to move backwards for about three weeks. Traditionally it is a time when messages cross, plans need a second look and old contacts resurface. Rather than avoiding life, use it for anything starting with re-: revise, repair, reconnect, reconsider. Leave a little extra time for travel and paperwork, and read the small print twice.

Penumbral lunar eclipse

20 Feb 2027 · 1°59' Virgo

A lunar eclipse is a heightened full moon. It tends to bring things to a head: feelings surface, a situation ripens, and what has run its course is easier to release. Give yourself room to feel and to finish what is ready to be finished.

Pushing Against Resistance ● CHALLENGING

With Saturn in tension with your Mars, you might feel blocked just when you most want to act. Authorities, deadlines or limited resources may slow your plans, and irritation can build quietly. Pushing harder tends to backfire, while overwork can leave you depleted. You may also become more aware of where you hold back from asserting yourself, or where you push too hard.

Strategy serves you better than force during this stretch. Break goals into smaller pieces, allow for delays, and save your energy for the efforts that genuinely matter. Regular movement and enough rest can help release built-up tension. When conflict arises, aim for firm, calm boundaries rather than confrontation. Which obstacle might be showing you a smarter route?

EXACT 16 JUL

Too Many Open Tabs ● CHALLENGING

Square or opposite your Mercury, Jupiter can make the mind restless and expansive at once. You might take on more reading, messages and projects than you can process, or find conversations drifting into debates about principles. Exaggeration is a common theme: plans described as easier than they are, facts stretched for a better story, schedules that assume more hours in the day than exist. Other people's opinions may also seem louder than usual.

Big thinking is valuable now, so keep it, but pair it with editing. Write things down, reread before sending, and double check figures and agreements. A good discipline while this transit is active: for every new idea you take on, finish or release an old one. Clarity tends to follow.

THIS MONTH Jupiter makes one clean pass over this point, so the theme rises, peaks around the exact date and fades again within a few weeks.

Saturn sextile your Mercury

IN ORB 9 JUL 2027 – 5 APR 2028

Clear Lines of Thought ● FLOWING

With Saturn supporting your Mercury, your thinking may feel organised and dependable. Complex problems can become easier to break into steps, and people may value your measured opinion. Conversations about practical matters, such as schedules, budgets or responsibilities, tend to go smoothly. You might find you have unusual patience for reading, learning or detailed work that normally tests your focus.

Put this clarity to work on something that benefits from structure: a course, a business plan, a long piece of writing, or a talk you have been postponing. Agreements made during this stretch often stand the test of time, so it is a good time to put understandings into words. Which idea of yours deserves a clear, written plan rather than another loose conversation?

♃ Jupiter trine your Saturn

IN ORB 30 JUL 2027 – 9 AUG 2027

Steady Progress ● FLOWING

This is a quietly productive transit. With Jupiter in harmony with your Saturn, ambition and realism tend to work as partners rather than rivals. You might find it easier to plan, budget your energy and follow through, and to be taken seriously when you do. Authority figures or institutions may prove more supportive than expected. Growth here is rarely dramatic; it is the kind that holds up over time.

It is a good time to lay foundations: structure a long-term project, take on a role with real responsibility, or commit to a practice you want to sustain. Write down where you want to be in a few years and map the first steps. Which steady effort, kept up during this stretch, could make the biggest difference later?

♃ Jupiter trine your Jupiter

IN ORB 27 JUL 2027 – 6 AUG 2027

Faith Renewed ● FLOWING

When transiting Jupiter makes a sextile or trine to its own natal position, the growth you began at your last Jupiter return tends to find easy momentum. You might notice opportunities that fit your values neatly, mentors who appear at the right moment, or a renewed confidence that your outlook on life holds up. Learning, travel and generosity often come naturally, and optimism feels grounded rather than forced.

This is a fine time to take a measured next step on a long path: the qualification, the trip, the creative leap you have been preparing for. Share what you know with someone just starting out; teaching often deepens your own understanding. Ask yourself which belief has served you best lately, and how you might live it more fully.

With Jupiter in an easy angle to your Mars, effort often meets less resistance. Tasks that usually drain you may feel manageable, and your timing can be surprisingly good. You might find more stamina for work and play, and a cheerful willingness to compete or take the lead. Others tend to respond well to your directness during this stretch, reading it as confidence rather than pressure.

Momentum is a resource; spend it wisely. It is a good time to start the project that needs a strong push to get off the ground, or to build a habit that benefits from early enthusiasm. Set a clear target, track your progress and celebrate small wins. Ask which goal, once moving, would carry itself forward.

Grace in Company ● FLOWING

People may simply seem nicer to be around during this transit. Jupiter in harmony with your Venus tends to soften social friction, so gatherings feel easier, compliments come more readily and misunderstandings resolve with a smile. You might notice a stronger appetite for beauty, whether that means a gallery visit, a new outfit or rearranging a room. Romance, if you want it, may feel more relaxed and hopeful.

Make room for connection. Say yes to the invitation, reconnect with a friend you miss, or collaborate on something creative with someone you enjoy. Gratitude tends to amplify this influence nicely: try noticing, each evening, one thing that felt good about the people in your life, and let them know.

THIS MONTH Jupiter makes one clean pass over this point, so the theme rises, peaks around the exact date and fades again within a few weeks.

Room to Overreach ● CHALLENGING

Square or opposite your Sun, Jupiter tends to inflate things: hopes, plans, commitments, sometimes your sense of what one person can carry. You may feel restless with your current size and eager for more, which can be genuinely useful. The friction shows up when enthusiasm outruns follow through, or when someone else's bigger vision pulls you off your own. Opportunities may also look larger than they really are.

Growth is still on offer here; it simply asks for editing. Before agreeing to anything new, check it against your actual calendar and your actual values. A useful question during this stretch: am I expanding because this matters to me, or because standing still feels uncomfortable? Let the honest answer shape what you say yes to.

THIS MONTH This is the first of 3 exact contacts. The theme is usually introduced now: notice what shows up, without needing to settle it yet.

BRINGING IT TOGETHER

VIII The Shape of Your Year

Taken as a whole, your year is carried by Pluto square your Ascendant, Uranus trine your Moon, Neptune square your Saturn, Saturn trine your Midheaven and Jupiter conjunction your Midheaven. Of the 15 transits in play, 9 are flowing, 5 are challenging and 1 is a conjunction. The flowing ones are doors you can walk through; the challenging ones are where the year asks the most of you, and often where it gives the most back.

The busiest stretch falls around January and August, when several contacts are exact at once; give yourself extra room then. December and April are quieter, good months to rest and digest.

A year is not a script. Keep the overview page somewhere you will see it, check in with each month as it begins, and notice where the themes match your life and where they do not; your own experience always has the last word. A question to carry with you: if this year had one lesson for you, Lucas, what would you like it to be?

ABOUT THIS REPORT

How The Year Ahead Works

Your birth chart is calculated from your birth date, time and place (tropical zodiac, Placidus houses). The positions of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are then followed day by day through the twelve months from December 2026 – November 2027, using the astronomy-engine ephemeris. Whenever one of them comes within 1° of a conjunction, sextile, square, trine or opposition to your Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Ascendant or Midheaven, it counts as a transit. Exact dates are found by narrowing down to the moment the angle is precise; a planet that turns retrograde can make the same contact up to three times. Eclipses and Mercury's retrograde periods come from the same ephemeris. The headline themes are chosen by how slow the planet is, how personal the point it touches, and how long it is active during your year.

Reading it well

Transits describe the weather, not the journey. The same transit can feel like pressure to one person and like momentum to another, and much depends on what you choose to do with it. Use this report to notice patterns and to plan with a little more intention; where it does not match your experience, trust your experience.
